

Business Executive Found Shot To Death In Car Near Oconto

Oconto, Wis., July 25 (AP)—A business executive who set out Friday from Sheboygan to visit his family at Dollar Bay, Mich., was found shot to death Saturday in his car.

KNOWN HERE

Nordbeck was known in business circles in Escanaba. For several years he was employed with the well known accounting firm, Ernst & Ernst, and audited the books of some Escanaba business houses.

The body of the victim, Emil A. Nordbeck, 44, had been neatly covered with a suit, shirt, blanket and rug.

The heavy caliber gun used in the shooting was not found, but Coroner William Gallagher said the case was definitely one of murder.

Nordbeck, comptroller for the Phoenix Chair Co. in Sheboygan, Wis., left Sheboygan Saturday. An unidentified truck driver discovered the slaying.

Authorities theorized that Nordbeck might have been killed by a hitchhiker. Friends said he often picked up riders. There was $10 in his wallet, but he was known to carry more than that sum generally, which left open the possibility of a robbery motive.

Nordbeck's wife, son and mother are at Dollar Bay, near Houghton.

A youthful hitchhiker with long, bushy hair is sought as the murderer of Emil A. Nordbeck, found dead in his automobile Saturday morning near Oconto, with a bullet hole through his head.

The stranger, about 30, was with Nordbeck in his automobile at 5:30 p. m. Friday at Iron Mountain, Mich.

Seen at Crystal Falls

He was again seen with him at Crystal Falls, Mich., farther north, at 6:45 p. m.—slightly more than four hours before the time. Authorities believe the body and automobile were abandoned.

The trail of Nordbeck and the hitchhiker was lost at Crystal Falls where Nordbeck said when he left Crystal Falls he was heading directly for Dollar Bay, Mich., where he planned to join his wife, Julia, and his son, Tommy, 11, vacationing there.

200 Miles South

His body was found at Stiles Junction, Wis., 200 miles south. Michigan state police yesterday expressed the belief that he may have been murdered shortly after leaving Crystal Falls.

Bette Davis And Warner Brothers Likely To Part

Hollywood, July 25 (AP)—Bette Davis and Warner Brothers, for whom she has worked for 13 years, are approaching a parting of the ways.

A studio spokesman said last night that there have been discussions with the actress relative to releasing her from her contract. The spokesman added they probably will be consummated in the next week or two when she finishes her current picture.

Miss Davis, who has been with Warner Brothers since 1931, said at her Laguna beach home that:

"Nothing has been signed as yet concerning the termination of my contract, but when and if anything is signed, I am sure it will be a completely mutual and happy agreement."

Coming here from the New York stage, Miss Davis twice has won academy awards for outstanding performances on the screen and for several years has been listed as one of the ten top boxoffice screen figures.

21 Persons Die in Weekend Accidents

Detroit, July 25 (AP)—Twenty-one persons in Michigan, many of them on vacations or short holidays, met death in violent accidents this weekend.

Of that number, 14 lost their lives in traffic accidents. There were two other Michigan residents, not included in the state total, who were killed in highway crashes outside the boundaries of Michigan.

Five persons drowned, and two others were killed in fires.

Detroit Mansion Destroyed by Fire

Detroit (AP)—The three-story mansion home of H. Waldo Bird, owner of a Detroit department store, was destroyed by fire Saturday night in suburban Bloomfield Hills. The spectacular flames burned unchecked when firemen were unable to get proper water pressure in their equipment and had to drag water from a nearby lake. The fire was believed to have started in the basement.

Mrs. John Hicks Is Dead in Flint

Flint (AP)—Mrs. John C. Hicks, whose late husband was a well known St. Johns banker, died here Sunday at the age of 75. Hicks, a one-time president of the Michigan Bankers' association, was deputy fuel administrator for Michigan in the first world war and headed the state's Reconstruction Finance Corp. early in the 1930's.

Denies Flaws In Plan to Earmark Foreign Aid Fund

Washington, July 25 (AP)—Senator McClellan (D-Ark.) today challenged critics today to prove there are "any flaws" in his plan to earmark about $1,500,000,000 of foreign-aid funds for buying surplus farm products in this country.

"They can't pick any flaws in it," McClellan told a reporter as Senate leaders opened a drive to knock it out of the $5,723,724,000 foreign aid bill. These leaders and foreign aid officials say they see a serious threat to the flexibility of the aid efforts.

Majority leaders Lucas (D-Ill.) asked the Senate to defeat the farm surplus provision and a long list of other restrictions on foreign-aid spending even before the Senate resumed debate.

Compromise Seen On Education Bill

Health Fund For Private Schools Proposed

Washington, July 25 (AP)—A compromise offered as a possible way out of the religious controversy over aid to education came up for perhaps a quick action today in a house commerce subcommittee.

The proposal would permit use of $25,000,000 in federal health aid funds in private and parochial schools as well as public schools.

It has an indirect but possibly important bearing on the general $300,000,000-a-year aid-to-education bill offered by Rep. Barden (D-N. C.) and sharply criticized by Catholic leaders as unfair to Catholic schools.

Yesterday a second Roman Catholic leader centered criticism on Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt who has endorsed the Barden bill's ban against spending this money on aid to public schools.

The Rt. Rev. Msgr. John K. Cartwright said in a sermon at St. Matthew's cathedral here that Cardinal Spellman was right when he accused Mrs. Roosevelt of anti-Catholic prejudice in supporting the Barden bill.

Msgr. Cartwright said that the widow of President Roosevelt had demonstrated anti-Catholic sympathies "by indirection, by sly insinuation, by mean reservation and by every slick device."

The Barden bill is pending before the house labor committee. Its ban on spending federal money on private or parochial schools would extend to health and transportation costs. (A bill the senate has approved would permit use of U. S. funds for such purposes where that has been done under state laws.)

Rep. McCormack (D-Mass.), Democratic floor leader, is one of the Catholic members of the house who have been fighting the Barden bill.

Now McCormack has teamed up with Rep. Priest (D-Tenn.) who, incidentally, is a Baptist in an effort to compromise a situation which could lead to no aid-to-education legislation.

Their compromise would permit the use of up to $35,000,000 a year for school health purposes—for private, parochial and public schools on the same basis.

Turtle Returns After Absence Of Four Years

Los Angeles, July 25 (AP)—This is the story of the returned turtle. Its name is Big Boy, although it is not very big and there is some question as to whether it is a boy.

Anyhow, 12 years ago Big Boy wandered into the yard of Mrs. Madeline Craig in suburban Highland Park. A beautiful friendship blossomed.

A light chain was fastened through a hole in his shell and he was staked out in the yard. One night he disappeared.

Four years later Big Boy sauntered back. He was chained more securely this time and learned to come when called.

Again he broke from his moorings and vanished and again, four years later, he returned, a few more wrinkles on his blind face. After staying around for awhile, he left for the third time.

Today, after being absent four more years, he is back in Mrs. Craig's yard, fussy and shell-worn. She knows it's Big Boy because of the torn edge on his shell where he pulled away from the chains.

What she doesn't know, she says, is what he did during those three four-year absences.

Reserve Officers Plan Convention

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 25 (AP)—Brought here in two Army planes, 13 delegates to the National convention of the Reserve Officers' Association were on hand today—two days early.

A group of 11 from the Canal Zone and Puerto Rico arrived in advance of the convention that opens Wednesday, with registration beginning tomorrow.

Maj. Andressa of Puerto Rico explained the officers came in planes flying operational trips "and it was take it or leave it, so we took it."

Defiant Tito Has Firm Hold On Yugoslavia

By ALEX SINGLETON

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, July 25 (AP)—The first Communist ruler to say "no" to Stalin seems to be still firmly in the saddle.

Premier Marshal Tito has defied the wrath of the Kremlin for more than a year now and Yugoslavia is weathering the economic and strategic strains resulting from the cominform blasts at Tito for being too independent.

Tito has had his troubles. Border incidents—shootings, sabotage, spies, short-lived sensations which have become almost commonplace. And there was a belt tightening at the dinner table which has been eased since the winter months by good crops.

Foremost in relieving the strategic situation has been the closing of the Yugoslav border to the Greek guerrillas. Yugoslav spokesmen claim the Greek rebel cause was sacrificed by the cominform's 13-month anti-Tito campaign.

Aid From West

Of greater long range importance is the prospect that Yugoslavia will get economic aid from the west soon to ease the Soviet squeeze on this country's normal trade. The projected deals would exchange western machinery for Yugoslav raw materials.

The rupture between Yugoslavia and the Greek rebels, whether or not it was intended to have that effect, should do no harm to Tito's bid for western credits to finance essential purchases.

Belgrade's carefully supervised press reflects Yugoslavia's independence and confidence. Borda, the voice of the Communist party, displayed prominently a pledge by the school of the security police to support Tito and stand against the aims of the east as well as the west.

The press also has struck out against the actions of some of Yugoslavia's neighbors—actions which some diplomatic observers here feel have been deliberately provocative in an effort to produce an excuse for retaliation.

There is a general hope here—and some belief—that other Russian satellites will revolt against Moscow's highhanded rule and seek, as Tito did, an equal voice in the policies of the Communist states.

Klan Chief Freed Under $500 Bond

Birmingham, Ala., July 25 (AP)—Ku Klux Klan Chief William Hugh Morris is out of jail today on a $500 bond that requires him to produce secret Klan records for a grand jury's inspection.

The portly director of the federated Ku Klux Klan, was jailed July 7 on contempt of court charges for refusing to produce the records.

Terming the Klan documents "sacred," he had said he would let the jail "rot around me" before betraying the hooded order's secrets. Saturday, however, he agreed to try to find the records and was freed under bond set two weeks ago.

Jet Pilot Lands Damaged Plane

Sandusky, O., July 25 (AP)—A Selfridge Field fighter pilot crash landed his F-80 jet plane near a crowded highway intersection Sunday after a wing tip fuel tank tore loose.

The pilot was Lt. Richard Glenn, 23, of Oconto, Iowa. He suffered slight cuts about the head.

Glenn was one of four fliers from the 56th Fighter Group participating in the all-Ohio air tour show staged by the junior chamber of Commerce.

The 56th is based at Selfridge Field near Mt. Clemens, Mich.

Denver Housewife Brings Semantics Out Of Clouds

Denver, July 25 (AP)—Scientists have been mulling over "the semantics of confusion" and allied subjects got the straight dope yesterday on how husband and wife can argue peacefully.

A Denver housewife, Mrs. Betty Lee Jacobs, told the experts that a simple application of semantics does the trick. (No, you can't go out and buy a bottle at the drug store.)

Mrs. Jacobs brought the Third Congress of Semantics down from out of the clouds over Denver. At least that's where the average Denverite thought it's been the past four days.

MURPHY SUCCESSOR?—Rep. Stephen Young, Ohio Democrat, said he would suggest to President Truman that U. S. Circuit Judge Florence E. Allen, above, of Cleveland, O., be appointed to the vacancy on the Supreme Court caused by the death of Justice Frank Murphy. If appointed she will be the first woman in U. S. history to occupy such a position. She was the first woman to become a common pleas judge, a state supreme court judge, or a circuit judge.

52-20 Law Will Die At Midnight No Chance For Extension At This Session

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The "52-50" provisions of the G. I. Bill of Rights, under which $3,600,000,000 has been paid in jobless benefits to 3,770,000 World War II veterans, expire tonight.

Seven bills were introduced in the 81st congress to extend or even increase these benefits, but only one has even reached the point of committee approval in congress.

This one, which would extend the unemployment pay but not benefits for those customarily self-employed, was approved unanimously by the Senate Labor committee last week. However, Senate action on the committee recommendation is not in sight.

Further, an extension bill has not even got out of the House Veterans Affairs committee. Chairman Rankin (D-Miss.) said yesterday there was not "the shadow of a chance" that congress would extend the system.

The "52-20" popular name for the program was based on the top benefits available: $20 a week for 52 weeks on unemployment.

Taxicab Driver Is Shot To Death

Detroit, July 25 (AP)—The fatal shooting of a taxicab driver who had been robbed four times in as many years and carried a gun for his own protection puzzled police today.

They sought to learn whether 35-year-old Milan A. Vetschick of suburban Highland Park took his own life or was the victim of a slaying.

Vetschick's body was found early Sunday in his blood-stained cab on a lonely road in St. Clair shores. Clutched tightly in his hand was the .32 caliber revolver that he had bought a few weeks ago.

Lyons Scheduled For Parole Aug. 30

Lansing, July 25 (AP)—Laurence A. Lyons, former superintendent of the Michigan state police, will be paroled Aug. 30 to California, the state parole board announced today.

Lyons has been in prison since Oct. 29, 1946 when he was sentenced to a 3 1/2 to 5 year term by Circuit Judge Louis E. Coash for conspiracy to operate slot machines in Ingham county.

Jerry Kenney of Lansing was named editor of the "Michigan Overseas Veteran" monthly newspaper to replace Otto C. Steinberger, of Kalamazoo. Herbert W. de Vine of Flint, state commander, presided.

Anti-Poll Tax Bill Before House Again

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The House set out today to pass an anti-poll tax bill for the fifth time in less than ten years.

And, if history repeats itself, the bill will die on a Senate shelf or lead to a Senate filibuster.

Chairman Norton (D-N.J.) of the House Administration Committee, which is sponsoring the bill, predicted there would be fewer than 100 votes against the measure on a roll-call vote expected late today.

"A few Republicans may join the poll tax state Democrats in opposition," she told newsmen, "but there won't be enough of them."

Rent Control Law Illegal, Judge Rules

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—Federal District Judge Elwyn R. Shaw today held the entire 1949 rent control law unconstitutional.

However, his ruling does not mean that all rent controls are not off.

A government attorney said an immediate appeal will be made to the U. S. Supreme Court.

William S. Caplan, chief Chicago attorney for the housing expediter, said the law will be "administered and enforced" pending appeal.

Judge Shaw held that in inserting a local option clause in the act, Congress had abrogated its wartime powers.

He said the whole law is invalidated by a clause permitting states and other governmental divisions to end controls in their territories by local option.

Judge Shaw held this provision was an unlawful delegation by Congress of its powers to other government agencies.

The opinion was issued in an action by Tighe E. Woods, housing expediter. He sought an injunction to restrain the Shoreline Cooperative, Inc., 223 E. 67th street, Chicago, from evicting 18 tenants. The judge dismissed the petition. In his written opinion, Judge Shaw said that Congress should have merely set a new expiration date if it wished to continue the old rent control act in force.

He announced a week ago that he intended to find the 1949 act illegal. At that time, he said, it was not certain whether he would throw out the entire law or whether only the local option clause could be held invalid.

John P. Lulinski, assistant U. S. attorney, said an immediate appeal of Judge Shaw's ruling will be taken to the supreme court.

Landlord Murders Tenant, Kills Self

Atlanta Man Goes Berserk To "Show The OPA"

Atlanta, July 25 (AP)—Vowing he'd "show the OPA," a disgruntled landlord killed a tenant, wounded the tenant's pregnant wife then shot and killed himself last night.

Police listed the case as a murder, attempted murder and suicide.

Shortly before the shooting, Detective J. M. Pack reported, the landlord, J. F. Bailey, 38, scrawled a note in which he said he was going to "kill Bill Hayes and his wife and show the OPA they can't Joe Staling me around."

The note referred to the dead tenant, William J. Hayes, 26, and his 21-year-old wife. The young wife is expecting a baby in about a month. Doctors reported her wounds did not harm the unborn child.

Executive Group Of V. F. W. Meets

Lansing, July 25 (AP)—The council of administration, executive group of the Michigan Veterans of Foreign Wars, approved a budget of $91,000 at a meeting here Sunday.

Principal expenses in the budget are the upkeep of state headquarters, hospital entertainment, youth programs, and the printing of a monthly newspaper.

The group voted to set up a new mobile service unit to visit various communities in the state to give expert counsel to veterans seeking advice.

It approved a resolution asking the state legislature to make it a misdemeanor for any person not a member of a congressionally chartered veterans organization to sell poppies to raise funds.

Jerry Kenney of Lansing was named editor of the "Michigan Overseas Veteran" monthly newspaper to replace Otto C. Steinberger, of Kalamazoo. Herbert W. de Vine of Flint, state commander, presided.

Mother And Her Son Rob Taxicab Driver

Woman With Six Children Was Penniless

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—A mother told police yesterday that she teamed up with her teen-aged son in a holdup venture after requiring a "promise" that he wouldn't shoot anyone.

The pair, Mrs. Regina Matczak, 42, and Jerome 17, were captured a few minutes after they had beaten and robbed a taxicab driver of $11.50.

"I was shocked when Jerome suggested it (the holdup) but I didn't know what to do," police quoted the woman as saying. "I made him promise that he wouldn't shoot anyone, or even fire a gun in the air."

Mrs. Matczak told police she was penniless and had no means of support for herself and five children. She said her husband had been a tavern porter but was fired from his job because his employers suspected him of stealing a gun and $30 from the place. She added that Jerome had committed the theft.

The taxicab, she said, was their first holdup attempt. Mrs. Matczak was charged with robbery. Jerome was charged with assault with a deadly weapon and robbery.

Groveland Area Being Patrolled

Groveland, Fla., July 25 (AP)—Florida highway patrolmen had the job today of policing this central Florida region—scene of violent racial disorders last week.

Rumored flareups expected after the 300-man National Guard pulled out failed to materialize yesterday. Six patrol cars crisscrossed roads and highways between Stuckey's Still on the west of Groveland and Clermont on the east—a distance of about 12 miles.

Nearly two score cars with darkened out-of-county license plates caused some concern and kept the patrol moving steadily throughout Sunday afternoon and most of them were from Orange and Sumter counties—strongholds of the Ku Klux Klan activities.

Mrs. FDR Denies Anti-Catholicism

New York, July 25 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, answering charges of Francis Cardinal Spellman that she has a "record of anti-Catholicism," said today she had supported Alfred E. Smith, a Catholic, in every campaign that he made.

She made the comment in her copyrighted column "My Day," published in the World Telegram.

"I want freedom of religion to prevail in this country," she wrote. She said that in campaigning for Smith for president she was shocked "by the extent of what I considered bigotry against the Roman Catholic church, and I certainly do not wish to encourage anything of that kind."

$5,000 Loot From CIO Union Safe

Detroit, July 25 (AP)—A widespread search was underway today for burglars who looted the office safe of CIO United Auto Workers local 600 and made off with nearly $5,000.

The theft was discovered by union officers Sunday morning.

No Easy Sailing Likely In Congress

Program Necessary, Says State Department

Washington, July 25 (AP)—President Truman signed the historic North Atlantic treaty today and immediately asked Congress to back it up with a $1,450,000,000 foreign arms program.

The chief executive said the western European members of the newly ratified military alliance—as well as other nations around the globe—must have American help to build up their defenses against the threat of Russian aggression.

Barely an hour before he sent a special message to the lawmakers pleading for swift approval of his program to meet "the most pressing current needs," Mr. Truman penned his signature to the ratification instrument of the Atlantic pact.

"Must Keep Strong"

He called the treaty "ratified only last Thursday by an 82 to 13 Senate vote—a historic step toward a world of peace, a free world, free from fear."

"But it is only one step," he said in a statement issued at the White House signing ceremony.

"We must keep ourselves morally and materially strong. We must play our part in helping to strengthen freedom everywhere."

That was the theme of his arms aid message to Congress. By stressing what he called "the most pressing current needs," Mr. Truman obviously was hoping to short circuit demands in Congress for a less ambitious program.

Two Republican senators who have played an important part in drafting this country's bi-partisan foreign policy had served advance notice on the administration that its views may not coincide with theirs.

Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, ranking Republican on the Senate Foreign Relations committee, announced over the weekend he favored a "stop-gap" arms program—one to be carried out only until grand strategy can take

Hoodlum Murdered In Gangland Style

Chicago, July 25 (AP)—The bullet-riddled body of an ex-convict and hoodlum was found in a south side ditch early yesterday—the end of a supposed gangland ride.

The man was Stanley Jakalski, 30, who police said had a long record for robbery and car theft and has been identified as a participant in the holdup slayings last month of two Brinks Express company guards.

Andrew Jakalski, father of the dead man, said two men appeared at their home about 4 a. m., posing as police. He said the men carried pistols and told Stanley that he was under arrest. Police said no such arrest was made. About two hours later, Stanley's body was found, shot five times.

Mrs. Agnes Klotz and John Lasky, witnesses to the Brinks holdup and slayings, viewed the body and said Jakalski was one of the gunmen who killed guards Bruno Koniol and Joseph Den. The robbers obtained $920 in cash and $377,000 in worthless canceled checks.

Czechs Support Stalin, Premier Says in Speech

Prague, Czechoslovakia, July 25 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist premier said yesterday that if forced to choose between Catholicism or Communism, the country's answer would be:

"Moscow, Stalin, Socialism."

Premier Antonin Zapotocky, speaking to 15,000 union members in Trutnov—formerly a part of the Sudetan German region—declared:

"If the Pope today excommunicated all Communists and with them all the co-operating, believing Christians, then we would be aware of the fact that he is excommunicating nearly the entire Czechoslovak working people."

Daily Worker Gets Taboo by Catholics

New York, July 25 (AP)—Roman Catholics were told in a sermon at St. Patrick's cathedral yesterday that it is a sin to read the Daily Worker, the American Communist organ.

The statement was made by the Rev. Edwin B. Broderick, in the presence of Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York.

The sermon explained the effects of the Pope's recent order excommunicating Catholics who follow Communism.

Cardinal Spellman said later in answer to a question that Catholics required to read the Daily Worker or other Communist

Milwaukee Power Squadron Spends Day At Escanaba

Seven yachts comprising a Milwaukee Power Squadron fleet cleared from Escanaba yacht basin today after spending Sunday night here on a cruise of Lake Michigan and Green Bay waters.

The squadron came here from Menominee, arriving yesterday afternoon. They left today for a stop at Fayette, and from there will go to Washington Island, Ephraim and Fish Creek before heading for Milwaukee.

Included in the fleet were the following power boats and their owners:

Dr. Frank E. Darling's "Victory", Harold Falk's "Cynsui", Frank Bonn's "Bonnie", Charles E. Kelly's "Sunny Anne VII", C. B. Sheffer's "Bri-Den", W. R. Armitage's "Siesta II", and J. B. Armitage's "Ja-Be-Ya II".

Also in the Escanaba yacht basin over the weekend was the "Bangalore II", owned by E. B. Lumbard and John D. Kinsey of Chicago. The 44-foot yawl-rigged sailing craft came here from Mackinac Island after competing in the Chicago-Mackinac race. The "Bangalore II", several times winner of that annual Great Lakes sailing classic, left for Chicago this morning.

Amvets Ask Action On Veterans' Bill

Grand Rapids, Mich., July 25 (AP)—Telegrams demanding immediate action on the service-men's readjustment allowances bill were on their way to congressmen in Washington today from the fifth annual Michigan convention of the American Veterans of World War II.

The Amvets, closing their session Sunday, voted to send the telegrams.

House approval of the bill, which has passed in the Senate, would permit continuation of readjustment payments to veterans who qualify for them.

The Michigan group also passed a resolution censuring Rep. John Rankin (D-Miss) for "undemocratic, unnecessary and un-American tactics in delaying the bill."

SKI LIFT IN SUMMER

Brighton, Utah, (P)—The 4,000-foot Brighton ski lift starts at an elevation of 9,000 feet on the side of Mt. Millicent. The lift has 90 chairs and operates both winter and summer. Winter snow depths at this resort range from six to twelve feet.

Wheat that has more than 14-per cent moisture means trouble in the bin and loss of money to the grower. Farm crops specialists advise moisture tests before combining wheat.

BRIEFLY TOLD

Fire—City firemen were called to the restaurant at 1311 Ludington street Saturday afternoon when a gas plate exploded, causing damage to ventilator fans in the flues and a great deal of smoke.

Police Calls—During the month of June, city police answered 695 calls, it was revealed today in a tally compiled by Sgt. Phil Bruce, substituting for John Finn, assistant chief, who is on vacation. The total does not include minor calls and services.

Bankruptcy Hearing—Creditors of the Industrial Supply company, Escanaba, appeared today at a hearing before George C. Quinnell, Marquette, at the court house in Escanaba in proceedings following a bankruptcy petition filed by Charles E. Howle. Quinnell is referee in bankruptcy for the U. S. district court.

Mrs. F. G. DeBoise and daughter, Mary, have returned to Eau Claire, Wis., after spending the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Germanson, 915 Seventh avenue South. John DeBoise is remaining here for a week.

Joyce Germanson and Rachael Anthony have returned from a week's vacation at Happy Hank's dude ranch, Brevort, Mich.

Investigation of Reported Deal In Coal Under Way

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The Senate Banking committee starts an investigation today of coal industry operations and the activities of John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

Senator Robertson (D-Va.), conducting the inquiry, called key coal producers as the first witnesses as the committee sought to learn.

1. The full story about a proposal that the industry name a chief negotiator to deal with Lewis on a year-around basis.

2. Whether, as Robertson has put it, the public requires "protection from labor monopolies."

The investigation eventually will fan out beyond the coal industry for a look at what Robertson calls "the existence and extent of economic power over trade and commerce, its concentration in a few hands, and the effect of this power on the small business man and on prices paid by consumers."

The tin plate industry began in Bohemia in 1240.

Strike In Hawaii Still Deadlocked

Governor's Parley Fails To End Walkout

Honolulu, July 25 (AP)—Failure of an employer-union conference called by Gov. Ingram M. Stainback today tightened the deadlock in the 86-day Hawaii dock strike.

The governor attempted to crack the impasse before he goes before a special session of the legislature tomorrow. He will ask for powers to seize the docks and hire civil service stevedores. Both sides in the strike oppose that.

The meeting in Iolani palace yesterday led to an informal wage offer by Henry Schmidt, a leader of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union. Employers turned it down.

Hawaii is bulging with 327,000 tons of sugar, valued at $39,000,000 and stored wherever the mills can find a dry place—including theater lobbies.

Dwight Steele, Hawaii Employers' Council president, came out of the governor's conference with the statement that it had produced no basis for negotiation.

He said Schmidt had telephoned him after the meeting and proposed in effect: "We'll cut pay hike demands from 32 to 28 cents an hour if you will agree to a 14 cent floor for bargaining purposes. That was 'worse than no proposal at all' to Steele.

The ILWU has been striking to boost longshoremen's wages from $1.40 an hour. Employers offered a 12 cent increase. They once accepted the 14 cent figure recommended by a fact finding board but the union rejected that.

Freighter Slices Pleasure Cruiser

Boston, July 25 (AP)—The Coast Guard today probed a crash in which a freighter sliced a pleasure boat in two, leaving one dead and 19 injured strewn on Harbor Waters.

Mrs. Mary Di Giovanni, 42, of Waltham, a passenger on the 39-foot cabin cruiser Marie S., was killed. The craft was chopped in two by the bow of the United States Lines' American Veteran, inbound from Philadelphia.

Witnesses said both were headed up the main ship channel in perfect weather at the time of the collision.

Thousands of Sunday excursionists watched as their vessels helped rescue the 20 Marie S. passengers and crew, tossed in a dazed condition in the big ship's boiling wake.

Coast Guard, Navy, police and private craft combined in prompt efforts which probably avoided a major disaster. Only the bow of the Marie S. remained afloat. It was later towed to port.

Sunday Blue Laws Defied in South

Hattiesburg, Miss., July 25 (AP)—Police tried to enforce Sunday blue laws, but the shows went on and patrons got into the acts.

Shuttling back and forth in a steady rain from their theaters to the police station, 24 managers, projectionists, ticket sellers and patrons were arrested, released on bond and arrested again for a total of 26 times. Three projectionists made the trip eight times.

Three policemen reported movie patrons peppered them with tomatoes. One of the officers limped—a tomato hit a boil on his leg.

At the Saenger theater, a projectionist locked himself in the projection room in an effort to keep the show going. A policeman simply doffed his cap and used it to block the projection outlet. The screen went black. Patrons booed and yelled.

When police got an ax and a crowbar and prepared to break down the door, the theater opened the room and the projectionist was taken off to jail.

While he was gone, organ music was played and couples danced on the stage.

As of January, 1949, the American steel industry had an annual capacity of 96,000,000 tons of steel ingots and castings.

Communist Troops Nearing Changsha

Loss Of Hunan Province Would Doom South China

Canton, China, July 25 (AP)—Communists drove closer today to the Hunan province capital of Changsha. Nationalists realized only too well loss of Hunan would doom South China.

Private reports placed the Reds at points five miles east of Changsha and ten miles east of Chuchow.

Qualified quarters indicated the Nationalists are preparing for the main battle farther south. There are said to be three defense lines—one possibly extending eastward into Kiangsi province from Yengyang; another on the Hunan-Kwangtung border; the third around Canton itself.

Government sources conceded the Red capture of Yungang, 18 miles east of Changsha, which is 400 miles north of Canton. They reported hard fighting near Liling, 45 miles southeast of Changsha, with the Reds only five miles away.

Sheriff Miron at State Convention

Sheriff William E. Miron left today for Ironwood where he will attend a three-day convention of the Michigan Sheriff's association, of which he is vice president. Sheriff High M. Blacklock of Grand Rapids is president.

Business meetings and discussion sessions are scheduled for the convention, expected to be attended by about 55 sheriffs. Gov. G. Mennen Williams will be the principal speaker at a convention business meeting tomorrow morning.

'Lost' Boys Found At Sister's Home

A nine-hour search by relatives, friends and four carloads of Michigan State Police for two little Indian boys from the settlement near Harris ended last night at midnight when the boys were found at the home of their sister near Harris.

Jacob and William McCullough, 6 and 8 years, respectively, were missing from the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob McCullough at 3 p. m. yesterday. State Police from Gladstone and Iron Mountain were called in after dark last night. A few minutes after midnight the search ended. The boys were found safe at the home of their sister, 10 miles from the parental home.

NEW YORK CITY ON A BUDGET?

Timing Is Important Factor When Visiting

By HAL BOYLE

New York, (AP)—So you're coming to visit New York this summer for the first time?

And your ailing rich uncle hasn't died yet and left you his money, so you have to travel on your own skinny pocketbook? And you want to know whether anybody can come here and have fun on a small budget?

Brother, at least 7,000,000 of the people who live here will tell you "Yes"—with some qualifications.

You can do it if you have a real curiosity to see and know as much as you can of this circus too big to put under canvas. But if your idea of heaven is to sip at gilded celebrities in plush supper clubs night after night—why, better wait until your uncle dies.

The best things in New York—its wonderful window displays, its famous streets, its great stores, its history-crowded museums, its skyscrapers, its tremendous views—cost little or nothing to see. And the people, the fabulous, fabulous people of this fabulous city, they are the best show of all—and free. But there is a time to see things best. Go at the right time for each.

Go out to Coney Island on a steaming Sunday and see humanity on the half shell. That is still the New York that O. Henry wrote about. And so is the Bowery and Chinatown—and the edge of Greenwich village. It's best to see them at night, and the subway will take you to any of those places for a dime.

But let's start at the beginning. When you get off your train or bus, treat yourself to a cab ride to your hotel. If you don't know a good, clean reasonably-priced one, ask the hackie. Unless you give him the idea you're just in from Fort Knox, Kentucky, he'll steer you straight.

Even though your budget is tight you can still work it so that you eat at least once in a big-name restaurant, see a Broadway play and take in a fine concert. Timing is important in these things too.

Go to the restaurant at lunch. The prices are usually scaled lower at mid-day—and you are just as likely to see a celebrity then. Hit the theater boxoffices half an hour before curtain time. At all except the top musicals or "Death of a Salesman" you'll probably be able to pick up a pair of tickets. "A Streetcar Named Desire" is now advertising good seats available for all performances, and my wife says it's the best play in town.

If you're a music lover, you can listen to some of the world's best talent at evening concerts under the stars at Lewisohn Stadium. And the prices, tax paid, range from thirty cents to $2. Major League baseball isn't too high. Go to see the Dodgers play at night—then you won't have to add the cost of a bottle of sunburn lotion to the price of your bleacher seat.

"LOADED"—Movie actress Vera Ralston sports a young fortune in jewels. The ear-rings, necklace and bracelets, from a Hollywood antique collection, are valued at $250,000. They are supposed to have been given to the Empress Josephine by Napoleon. The necklace alone contains 20 square-cut diamonds ranging in size from two to five carats each.

Don't fail to go up to the top of the Empire State Building. Take a trip through Rockefeller Center. See the Rockettes in the Radio City Music Hall. Ride the ferry to Staten Island and enjoy the greatest view and the longest over-water ride on the globe for a nickel. All are good buys.

But walking and gawking are the finest fun here if your arches are strong. Stroll through the garment district any week day at noon; Wall Street, deserted on a Saturday afternoon; and Times Square on Saturday night, the biggest country town in America.

Be blasé as you meander along ritzy Park Avenue. Don't try to rescue a lady if she appears to be choking to death in a mink coat. She's happy—and what better way can a lady die. Once I saw a lady leading a deer along there and nobody turned to look twice. Should you see an octopus on Park avenue leading Greta Garbo in chains, don't stare. Everybody'll know you're from out of town.

Two final important tips: (1) Don't change any $2 (or $20) bills for strangers. (2) When in doubt about anything, ask a cop. If you can't understand him, ask again. He may be from Brooklyn.

Elmer McKana, 62, Former Escanaban, Dies In Illinois

Elmer A. McKana, 62, of La Grange, Ill., died suddenly Friday night in Hines hospital, Hines, Ill., according to word received in Escanaba by his sister, Mrs. W. R. Smith, 316 South Fifth street.

Mr. McKana was born in Chicago in 1887 and is a former resident of Escanaba. He was employed by the Delta Hardware company for many years and left here to move to Illinois about 15 years ago. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving besides his sister in Escanaba is a brother, George E. McKana, of Wilmette, Ill.

Mrs. Smith left yesterday for La Grange, where funeral services for her brother were scheduled to be held today.

Farm Wife Trapped In Hay Mow; Found Saturday Evening

Missing for 14 hours, Mrs. Anna Robbins, 29, wife of Alvin Robbins was found by searchers about 8:20 Saturday night in the hay mow in a barn on the Casimir farm, where the Robbins reside, about three miles north of Perkins.

Mrs. Robbins had been missing from about 6 o'clock in the morning.

Neighboring farmers and town-folks assisted in the search during the day and late in the afternoon the Michigan State Police and sheriff's officers were brought in to the case.

When found, Mrs. Robbins was in a state of shock. Following treatment by a local physician, she told officers that she went to the barn early in the morning to tend stock. She was tired, it was early and she decided on a short nap and went to the east end of the mow where the sun made it warmer.

Apparently she moved while sleeping and slid down between the hay mow and the barn wall. She said she attempted to get back up but was unable to do so. Her cries for help apparently were muffled by the hay. It was not until almost dark that her frantic efforts to climb back into the hay mow were successful.

Approximately 25 persons participated in the search.

U. P. State Fair Bigger And Better

THE advance interest manifest this year in the Upper Peninsula State Fair indicates that the 1949 exposition will be the biggest and by far the best of a long series of outstanding state fairs at Escanaba.

Harold P. Lindsay, fair manager, reports that inquiries from exhibitors, concessionaires and fair fans have reached an all-time high this year. The demand for exhibit and concession space has far exceeded previous experiences.

The quality of exhibits, which has shown a constant improvement over the years, will reach a new high this year, it has been predicted. This is particularly true in the livestock departments, most of which have been opened to statewide competition for the first time.

An innovation that is certain to prove popular with fair patrons is the gladioli show that will take over the floriculture space the last three days of the fair. Glads have become an extremely popular flower in this area and thousands of high quality blooms have been developed.

The Upper Peninsula State Fair has been called "The Show Window of the Upper Peninsula." It is truly that. The exposition provides the means to display the progress that is made in agriculture, industry, rural and urban living and to stimulate a desire for more improvements.

Especially gratifying is the 4-H club phase of the U. P. State Fair exhibits. These club youths are doing a tremendous job in improving farm living and the state fair board is making a worthwhile contribution by encouraging the 4-H club movement.

Racial Prejudices Exist In North, Too

RACIAL prejudices are not confined to the South. Recent happenings in cities not too far removed from Escanaba prove that there is still considerable work to be done to develop a full measure of racial tolerance.

A few weeks ago in Milwaukee a Negro war veteran and his family were subjected to considerable pressures by white neighbors at a tourist trailer camp. The white folks sought to expel the Negro family from the trailer park. Later the case was settled amicably when the white residents publicly apologized to the Negro war veteran, conceded that they had done him an injustice and invited him to remain as a resident of the camp. Not all such incidents are concluded on such a harmonious tone, unfortunately.

Last week the custodian of a Fond du Lac county park pool ruled that children of migrant workers from Texas were not entitled to park privileges because their parents are of Mexican descent. The League of Women Voters of Waupun have taken issue with the park custodian, pointing out that the children are United States citizens, entitled to the same privileges of other citizens.

The park custodian is quoted as saying, "These people didn't know what a swimming pool looked like. They don't have pools where they come from. That's not their fault, but it's not ours either."

This is a ridiculous attitude for an American citizen to take. In this country we do not have various degrees of citizenship. Discrimination of persons because of their color is wrong in principle and contrary to the concepts of democracy.

The Spirit Of Adventure

A prominent American business man stated recently that Canadians as a rule lack the spirit of adventure, the will to gamble, and the vision to properly evaluate the potential of their own country.

There may be something to this, and the Algoma uranium rush seems to be a case in point, says the Sault, Ontario, Daily Star. Since the news last summer of Bob Campbell's sensational discovery at Theano Point, north of the Canadian Sault on the shore of Lake Superior, 4,500 claims have been recorded for uranium in the office of W. N. Miller, mining recorder, in that city. The rush has outdone by far the most hectic days of the old Michipicoten gold boom.

Revenue from the sale of licenses and permits is over the $30,000 mark. The discovery has attracted to Algoma some of the biggest names in American and Canadian mining. And more than 80 per cent of the claims registered have been staked by Americans.

Only here and there in the many square miles of stakings are there any indications of workable concentrations of pitchblende, the rock in which uranium occurs. By far the majority of claims will never pan out, as the saying is.

Many of the stakers will let their claims go back later for taxes, for the great majority cannot afford to sit back and wait. The good properties are being gathered in one by one by large U. S. and Canada mining interests. Later on, they will be the ones to invest large sums in development and actual mining of the pitchblende which, it is said, is likely to try to the utmost the skill and the vision of experienced mining geologists. There is much to learn in the new venture, and the wisenheimers say that probably not more than one claim in a thousand, if that, will ever pay out.

Free Men Have Stake In Vatican's Fight

THE Vatican's fight against the Communist party is of vital concern to free people everywhere, Protestant as well as Catholic.

The principal battleground at the present is the area behind the iron curtain, eastern Europe. The Mindszenty case in Hungary and the attacks on churchmen in Czechoslovakia show how the Communists act to crush opposition. Totalitarian communism can operate successfully only when every possible source of opposition has been wiped out. In such countries as Poland, Hungary and Czechoslovakia, where the Catholic church is very strong, the religious influence constitutes an extremely serious threat to Communist rule. Thus the Red campaign to take over control of the church has developed.

It is significant to note that the Communists have not confined their attacks on the Catholic church alone. They have acted similarly against Protestant denominations, too, that constitute a focal point of rebellion and against labor unions, service clubs and other organized groups not under control of the Kremlin.

In eastern Europe, the Catholic church is the toughest possible center of resistance to communism. If the Reds are successful in sheeking the Catholic hierarchy in those countries behind the iron curtain, it is a certainty that the last vestige of opposition and restraint of Red tyranny will be gone.

BUSINESS BEFORE PLEASURE (Christian Science Monitor)

Well, there's one firm which is not going to take any business recession lying down. It knows that the sellers' market is over. It recognizes that the type of salesmanship that permits a customer to buy if he is polite enough not to question the price, reasonable enough not to inquire about a guarantee, and fair enough not to ask for delivery except at the seller's convenience, is not likely to produce a spectacular sales record in this more "difficult" period.

So the firm advertises for a salesman, according to a United Press dispatch, as follows:

Must be a salesman, expert driver, talker, liar, hunter, fisherman, dancer, traveler, bridge player, poker player, golf player, diplomat, financier, capitalist, philanthropist, authority on palmistry, chemistry, physiology, dogs, cats, horses, blondes, brunettes, and redheads. A man of vision and ambition, after-dinner speaker, night owl—work all day, stay up all night, and appear fresh the next day. Must be a man's man, a ladies' man, a Democrat, Republican, New Dealer, Old Dealer, technician, politician, mathematician, and mechanic to represent established chemical manufacturer.

To the salesman trained in the post-war boom the demands may seem unreasonable. But to any old hand at the game this advertisement says only that the "good old days" are coming back—days when a man had to earn his salary, and sometimes even had to hustle a bit.

CHRISTIANITY STRIKES BACK (New York Sun)

By two distinct actions, Christianity has struck back at the temporal forces attempting to take control over spiritual things. On the heels of the Papal decree excommunicating those who belong to the Communist party or follow its teachings comes the demand of totalitarianism to make them subordinate their faith to the demands of the state. The resolution adopted by the Central committee of the World Council, meeting in England, reminded Christians that "the liberty which they receive from their Lord cannot be taken away by the violence or threat of any world power or destroyed by suffering." Totalitarianism, it held, is a "false doctrine," ignoring the fact that "religious freedom is the condition and guardian of all true freedom." Christians may disagree among themselves over forms, but challenged by an authority which would make them worship false idols of statism they find common ground for resistance.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

LET'S ADD A NEW WORD TO YOUR VOCABULARY

Q. In a recent issue of the magazine Coronet, the General Electric Laboratories' associate director, Irving Langmuir, is spoken of as having "been confirming his belief in serendipity—the discovery of valuable things by unexpected occurrences." Will you please discuss the word serendipity?

A. Serendipity, pronounced: SEHR-un-DIP-tee, means "The faculty or habitual experience of making happy or interesting discoveries unexpectedly or by accident."

The word was coined in 1754 by Horace Walpole from the name Serendip (also spelled Serendib), old name for Ceylon.

Walpole wrote a fantasy called "The Three Princes of Serendip," in which the heroes are described as constantly making amazing and fortunate discoveries unexpectedly, and as finding valuable articles by chance.

If you are one of those lucky persons who are blessed with the faculty of serendipity, you may speak of your self as a serendipper, pronounced: SEHR-un-DIP-er.

There are countless cases of serendipity in the history of science, medicine, and invention. A typical case was the accidental discovery of the process of vulcanizing rubber. For years Charles Goodyear (1800-1860) had sought a method by means of which India-rubber could be made into

Senator Taft In Spotlight

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington. — The faint stirrings on the surface fail to reflect what is happening in the political depths. Intensive preparations are going forward for what promises to be a showdown contest in the congressional elections of next year.

Childs

The issue for conservatives, it becomes increasingly apparent, is whether organized labor in a unified front is to establish a balance of political power. On the side of the labor-Fair Deal-left the issue is whether congress can frustrate the Truman welfare program that was the core of the president's 1948 campaign.

On both sides of this dividing line the feeling grows that '50 is crucial. And if the conservatives, most of whom are in the Republican party, recapture control of congress next year, then 1952 becomes the all-important year in which to consolidate a victory that many Republicans feel should have been clinched last fall.

TAFT UP FOR RE-ELECTION

Two current developments point up the all-out stress on winning in next year's showdown. In the center ring will be the contest in Ohio with Sen. Robert A. Taft up for re-election and organized labor determined to knock him out.

A challenger of proper stature to take on Taft becomes, therefore, of paramount importance. This is the reason that tremendous pressure is being put on a man who has hitherto had virtually no professional political experience. Murray Lincoln, a leader in the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation and president of the Co-operative League of the U. S. A., is being urged by labor groups, by co-operatives and by such organizations as Americans for Democratic Action to make the race against Taft.

According to Lincoln's friends, he would like to run but he is hesitating because of his inexperience and because he knows what a grueling, no-holds-barred contest it will be. Lincoln has promised to give his answer at the end of August.

LAUSCHE WITHDRAWS

The search for a candidate became acute when Governor Frank J. Lausche of Ohio took himself out of the running. A possibility is State Auditor Joseph Ferguson, who has proved through the years to be a phenomenal vote-getter.

But for such a contest in the national spotlight Ferguson lacks the symbol value. That is just what Lincoln, in the view of those urging him to make the race, has in overflowing measure. As a dirt farmer, as a leader in the co-operative movement and as proven friend of organized labor, he embodies the farmer-labor coalition which is the goal of the strategists in the Fair Deal-labor side.

The fact that Lincoln has been registered as a Republican and so lists his political affiliation in Who's Who makes no difference to the enthusiastic backers pleading with him to run. That reflects the growing indifference to the old political labels as the emergence of new political divisions becomes increasingly clear.

EISENHOWER MENTIONED

The second development relates to 1952 and the Republican search for a candidate who can win. Aware of the more and more frequent mention of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower as GOP standard-bearer for '52—a phenomenon that is repeating in a fascinating way the Eisenhower boom of early 1948—a group of influential Republicans called on the general not long ago.

They told him they were convinced he could get the nomination and win the presidency. This did not surprise Eisenhower. A great many politicians—both Republicans and Democrats—have been telling him that since he stepped out of the chief of staff's office.

What did surprise him was the next statement of the spokesman for the group. He told the general that an absolute requisite, if he were to be the victorious candidate, was that he say just as little as possible about the controversial issues of the day. Get yourself elected and then we can work to reverse the trend towards the welfare state, so the advice went.

Eisenhower replied that this advice seemed to him contrary to the basic principles of democracy. It was saying, in effect, that the people should not be allowed to determine what was in their own best interest; that if they voted for something those at the top believed wrong or harmful, then that policy should be nullified. Eisenhower made it clear he would continue when he felt called to do so to express his convictions.

The only relations these two developments have is that both men, Lincoln and Eisenhower, are outside the field of traditional politics. The effort to use them is one more indication of the increasing urgency behind the issues in the coming contest.

articles that would be long-wearing and that would stand extremes of heat and cold.

One day, in 1839, he accidentally dropped on a hot stove some rubber mixed with sulphur. On examining the rubber he found that it was ideal in strength, hardness, and elasticity for commercial use. He named his process vulcanization, after Vulcan, the Roman god of the fiery element.

Do not confuse the words ferment and ferment as a commentator did recently in speaking of Russia's desire to ferment another world war. He should have used the word ferment, pronounced: FOE-ment. It means "to instigate; to foster." Ferment, pronounced FUR-ment, means "to cause or undergo fermentation."

The troublesome who - whom construction is discussed in great detail in Mr. Colby's leaflet C-24, which also gives simple rules for using the pronouns. For a copy, send 5c in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Frank Colby, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 10, N. Y.

Welcome to Utopia

KIDS AND BIKES—There are two ways that children ride bicycles. Both of them are dangerous—but one is more dangerous than the other.

Boys and girls who are taught to observe the traffic laws and ride as carefully as they can are still exposed to a considerable danger on the streets and highways. There is a point of caution beyond which even the most careful boy or girl cannot go to assure safety to themselves. There are traffic accidents that are unavoidable. Only way to avoid them, so far as your bike-riding child is concerned, is to take the bike away.

The other is the carelessly dangerous way: Violate all of the traffic laws, fail to have the bike properly equipped and challenge fate by darting in and out of heavy traffic.

NEEDLESS DEATHS—Just as some accidents are described as unavoidable, so also are many deaths of bike riders classed as needless.

They are needless to the extent that if parents would instruct their children in at least the fundamentals of traffic safety the accidents might not occur. State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler, concerned over the rising tide of fatal accidents to cyclists on state highways, has asked bike riders and parents to join in the fight against "needless loss of life" because of traffic carelessness.

The greater responsibility is on the part of the parents. If they value the lives of their children they should take time to hold an informal "bike safety class," impressing upon the children the need to follow essential safety rules.

YOU MUST KNOW—Before parents can advise their youngsters on bike safety rules they must know something about them themselves. Here are safety rules announced by the state highway commissioner:

- 1—Obey all traffic regulations, signals, signs, and give proper hand signals, the same as is expected of a car driver.
- 2—Don't hitch rides or carry other passengers.
- 3—Ride on the right hand side of the street or highway, never more than two abreast.
- 4—Always have both hands free to guide your bike, and don't ride in areas where motor traffic is heavy. Push your bike across a busy intersection rather than run the risk of an accident.
- 5—Give pedestrians the right-of-way and warn them of your approach.
- 6—Always make sure your brake is working, chain is tight, and that seat and handle are securely in place.
- 7—When riding at night make sure your front light and rear lamp, or reflector, is operating correctly.
- 8—If you wish to perform stunts, choose a place other than a street or highway.
- 9—Remember, courtesy to the other fellow plays a big part in making streets and highways safe for all.
- 10—If in doubt about ordinances and laws governing the control of bicycles, consult your local police department.

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Escanaba—Rev. Fr. M. H. LaViolette, assistant pastor of St. Paul's Catholic church in Negaunee has been notified that he has been transferred to Flat Rock, Mich.

Escanaba—A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William King, 510 1/2 Ludington street, at St. Francis hospital, July 24.

Gladstone—Mrs. Frank Brotherton and daughter, Nellie Ann, are leaving tomorrow for Neenah, Wis., where they will visit with Mrs. Brotherton's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Sword and family.

Manistique—Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carlson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Rene Sabourin and children of Escanaba spent Sunday here visiting with the Ken Gundermans.

Twenty Years Ago

Escanaba—Dr. C. Albert Lund has been pastor of the Bethany Lutheran church here for 23 years having come here from Prentice, Wis., September 17, 1906.

Escanaba — Robert McEwen, George Harvey, Jack Bartella, Robert LeMire, Nevlin Reynolds, Jack Bloomstrom, William Hemminger, Thomas Banks and Claud Tobin are at the Hi-Y training camp, called Camp Min-Se-ya-ta, located on Ross Lake near Ishpeming.

Gladstone—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cowan are the parents of a daughter born at St. Francis hospital, Wednesday.

Gladstone—Robert Foster was named chief pilot, Leland Gabe, assistant chief pilot, John Foster, raidoman, and Jim Colenson, navigator of the Gladstone Model Airplane club at the last regular meeting.

LOOK MA! — This childhood business of trying stunts on the bike recalls the story of the boy who rode around the block, trying a new trick each time. His mother, sitting on the porch, heard him call, "Look Ma, no feet!" Next time around he yelled, "Look Ma, no hands!" There was considerable delay before he appeared the third time to call out: "Look Ma! No teeth!"

LIGHTS AND RIDERS—Most of the bikes owned by youngsters are not equipped with lights, as required by law. Parents and children usually excuse this lack by pointing out that "Junior never rides his bicycle at night." But Junior does, sometimes on an errand for Dad or Mother.

This failure to equip bicycles with adequate lights is probably the most frequent cause of accidents. The law provides that under normal conditions a bicycle headlight must be visible for at least 300 feet and the rear lamp, or reflector, 200 feet. Many bikes have no lights at all and are still operated at night.

Riding two on a bike is a law violation unless there is a permanently attached seat or saddle. Carrying anything that prevents the rider from having both hands on the handle bars is another law that is openly flaunted.

TO THE MOTORIST—The majority of bike riders are children. Motorists should consider this in relationship to the traffic problem bicycles cause on our streets and highways. Youngsters seldom display the caution that comes on-ly after years of experience. The young bike rider needs safety training first, and consideration second.

The consideration can come on-ly from the motorist. Better a few minutes delay than another fatality.

Improper Use Of Cars

Dear Editor:

We've wondered just how long it would be before somebody made mention of the improper use of state cars by state employees. We've noticed day in and day out (and especially on the OFF days (which are many) of state employees that state cars are used for their and their family's personal use. I'm a Republican and a black one at that when it comes to stopping the flagrant waste in government going on at the present time but here goes for a salute to Gov. Williams for coming out against this kind of corruption. You don't see Forestry cars (Federal) being used by employees and their families on the many holidays and off days enjoyed by all government employees.

Beer At Fairs

Dear Editor:

I noticed in a letter published in this column recently a statement that the sale of beer is prohibited at the Michigan State Fair in Detroit. I am not familiar with the regulations that may be in effect there this year, but I know that beer has been sold by concessionaries at the state fair in past years. It also is my understanding that the sale of beer is permitted at most of the county fairs in Michigan.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington.—Of course, I don't like to write anything about General "Happy Harry" Vaughan which might cause the president to call me an S. O. B. again.

Nevertheless, I do think that the senate expenditures committee, now investigating the so-called "five per-centers" should take a careful look at something which is going on right under the president's own nose—namely, the repairing of his official abode, the White House.

Since this official abode is one which we all help to support and of which we are all proud, it would seem proper for the senate to investigate how a friend of Gen. Harry Vaughan's and of his lobbying sidekick, Col. James V. Hunt, should have been appointed to repair the White House—at a time when Hunt was trying to get a commission in connection with White House repair.

This friend is Maj. Gen. Glen E. Edgerton, retired, U. S. army engineers.

Gen. Edgerton has been a fine army officer, and well qualified. But so also were Generals Alden Waitt and Herman Feldman, who were suspended from the army because they gave lobbyist James V. Hunt information on army contracts that the press and public couldn't get.

Officially, it is explained that General Edgerton was appointed by the White House repair commission, including Senators McKellar of Tennessee, Martin of Pennsylvania, with Representatives Rabaut of Michigan and Keefe of Wisconsin.

However, there are all sorts of ways to skin a cat in Washington and a senate committee, looking beneath the surface, might unearth some interesting facts.

DECORATING WHITE HOUSE INTERIOR

It would discover, for instance, that lobbyist Hunt has a client, Miss Dorothy Draper, who is an interior decorator desirous of getting a contract to redecorate the White House. If she gets the job, she pays a commission to Vaughan's friend, Hunt. No wonder Hunt wanted a friend in charge of White House repairs.

The senate would also discover that Gen. Edgerton, the man now in charge of White House repairs, admits—as he did to this column—that both General Vaughan and lobbyist Hunt are his friends. He also admitted that he knew about Miss Draper, the decorator.

It would also discover that both Vaughan and Hunt pulled wires on an earlier occasion to get General Edgerton appointed to the key spot of war assets administrator. This is the job which had control over selling surplus war material and was for a long time a gravy source for lobbyists.

Vaughan and friend Hunt failed to get Gen. Edgerton appointed to this bonanza-dispensing job, but they did have another key man inside the War Assets administration—none other than one of Vaughan's and the president's old cronies from Battery D.

INSIDE WAR ASSETS

Their friend is Joe Major, who, incidentally, flew in the president's private airplane with Harry Vaughan and Harry Truman down to the battery's 35th reunion in Little Rock, Ark., last month.

Joe Major, when queried, was quite frank in admitting that he receives telephone calls all the time from Harry Vaughan. Major denied that Vaughan was pressuring him, but admitted that the calls came to him while in his office and while in charge of getting rid of surplus government property. Major estimated he had received about 500 phone calls from Vaughan, and in addition visited Vaughan about once a week at his home.

Major was also quite frank in admitting that lobbyist Hunt had asked him to use his influence to get Gen. Edgerton appointed to the top job of dispensing surplus property.

Joe Major also knows John Maragon well. In fact, he refers to him as John.

"I accepted John because he was a friend of Harry's," Major explained.

EX-KANSAS CITY BOOTBLACK

That raises another interesting chapter which the senate could probe with profit—namely, the war assets lobbying of Vaughan's friend Maragon, the ex-Kansas City bootblack, ex-federal narcotics agent, who poses as the great friend of both Truman and Vaughan and seemed to prove it by accompanying them to the Potsdam conference along with Stalin and Churchill.

It would be important for the public to know just how much backing Maragon got from the president's military aide in his wirepulling with war assets to get some of Uncle Sam's low-priced surplus property.

Working on behalf of a mysterious Englishman named George Dawson and of a British-backed company called "Trans-America Traders, Inc." Maragon bought some government turbine generators for $30,200, some solinium rectifiers for charging airplane batteries for $10,000 and some welding panels for $1,000. Later, Maragon claimed he got stung on the generators and tried to back out.

Maragon's group also tried to buy the Gary armor plate factory, in Gary, Ind., until the army withdrew it from the market. But the biggest trouble with Maragon came over some coal-mining machinery which war assets sold the Austrian government. Maragon wanted this machinery in the worst way, and pulled various wires to get it.

He even claimed that the war assets auctioneer had signaled to the Austrians by scratching his nose in order to let them have the machinery.

Maragon is the man who once lobbied for the David Bennett Perfumery company and entertained both Harry Truman and Harry Vaughan on the company's yacht. Through the reported intervention of Gen. Vaughan, lobbyist Hunt has now taken over the Bennett company's lobbying work.

It would be highly interesting, however, if the senate should investigate just how an ex-bootblack was able to take special trips to Europe immediately after the war on perfume business, at a time when few Americans were admitted.

Back Yard Is Pulpit For Child Preacher

By NEA Service
Cleveland (NEA) — At an age when most girls are busy playing with dolls, 11-year-old Linda Kassimatis spends her time playing preacher before a sun-suited "congregation."

Every Wednesday afternoon for an hour she gathers her flock of neighborhood youngsters in her backyard for a Bible class. More than 40 children usually attend.

With all the decorum of one dedicated to the church, she calmly leads them in hymns and tells Biblical stories.

"Linda's always played church. She'd get her dolls together and preach to them," said her mother.

"Most children don't get to story hour at church, so I just thought I'd start one here," Linda explained.

Her seriousness in leading her squirming audience never deserts her. Her answer to the discipline problem is, "I just start talking and they keep quiet."

It's not really that simple. A couple of the older children act as monitors and her parents stand by to shake a finger at the too active. Linda's father, a cook, is unemployed because of illness.

In front of her on a "first" bench, she keeps her briefcase with church papers, Bible and book-marks with religious pictures or texts. She gives the book-marks to members of the congregation for good attendance or for bringing new members.

Every service ends with the distribution of religious literature and a "treat," a cold drink and cookies. Linda's church and some of the neighbors help her with the expenses.

Fred J. Sovey, 59, Wyandotte, Former Escanaban, Dies

Fred J. Sovey, 59, of 14874 Flanders, Wyandotte, Mich., former resident of Escanaba, died Saturday after a brief illness. Bronchial pneumonia caused his death.

He was born in Ishpeming May 1, 1890, and lived in Spalding before moving to Escanaba 28 years ago. He was employed by the Escanaba Paper company and also operated a cash and carry store and gasoline station at 1414 Washington avenue. He moved to Detroit in 1943 and later settled in Wyandotte. He was employed by the Commercial Steel Treating Corporation.

Surviving are his wife, the former Elizabeth LaPalm, three sons and four daughters, Henry of Escanaba, Alex of Groes, Earl of Muskegon Heights, Mrs. Robert (Ruth) West of Dearborn, Mrs. Harold (Ruby) Tarleton, also of Dearborn; Mrs. Joseph E. (Lucille) Blanchette, Escanaba; Mrs.

Walter (Betty) Edgar, of Fairbanks, Alaska; one brother, Alex Sovia, Phillips, Wis.; three sisters, Mrs. Marie Bedard, Iron Mountain; and Mrs. Alsed Passenault and Mrs. Cecelia LeBoeuf, Munising; and nine grandchildren.

The body will be brought to Escanaba and will be taken to the Alto funeral home where it will be in state Tuesday at 2 p. m. Services will be held at 9 Wednesday morning at St. Joseph's church. Father Patrick, O. F. M., officiating and burial will be in Gardens of Rest cemetery. The rosary will be recited at the funeral home at 8 Tuesday evening.

New Bill Aimed At 5 Percenters

Force Disclosure Of Aid In Getting Contracts

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington, July 25 (AP)—Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) said today he is drafting legislation to make it a criminal offense for persons obtaining government contracts to conceal any help they get from "five percenters."

Ferguson said his bill, to be introduced soon, is prompted by recent developments disclosing the activities of men who charge a fee to get contracts for others. That practice is not illegal.

But the Senate's special investigations subcommittee soon will start a public inquiry aimed at finding out whether the commission men, so-called five-percenters, have tried to influence government officials who award contracts.

The subcommittee also wants to learn whether anyone in the government has been usually helpful to the five percenters. The group's preliminary investigations already have resulted in the suspensions of two army major general—Alden H. Waitt, chief of the chemical corps, and Herman Feldman, the quartermaster general, in relieving them of duty temporarily. Secretary of the Army Gray said they failed to exhibit judgment "expected of persons in their positions."

Ferguson used to head the investigations subcommittee, but he no longer is a member. However, he has been following the five percenters inquiry closely and plans to sit in at the hearings.

He told a reporter that his bill would set up a contract bureau where all persons obtaining government contracts would be required to file certain information. That would include:

1. Whether any commission—and how much—was paid to anyone for aid in obtaining the contract. Such persons would have to be named.
2. Whether any help other than routine aid was obtained from any government employee.
3. Whether any aid was obtained from anyone who had left government service within the two previous years.

Truman Will Wait For Developments In Economic Trend

Washington, July 25 (AP)—The administration launched its regional business-jobs aid plan today. President Truman was reported meanwhile as determined to wait another six months to see whether the economy gets better or worse—and then see what's needed.

For the time being, Mr. Truman plans to pin-point federal spending in areas hardest hit by unemployment and business decline.

In that connection Secretary of Commerce Sawyer went to Boston to confer with the New England Council and governors of New England states to get the economic picture in that area.

At the same time, undersecretary of commerce Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney and assistant secretary Thomas C. Blaisdell journeyed to Louisville and Atlanta to meet with business groups.

Other commerce department officials were to go later in the week to the Mid-West, and to other sections, to get on-the-spot data of economic sore spots.

Meanwhile a top government official specializing in administration economic policy said President Truman has set a deadline of January for a new appraisal of the nation's economy.

If it gets worse by then, this official said, the president will come forward with a New Deal-like, pump-priming plan designed to reinvigorate the country.

"If there is no upturn this fall, or no evidence of a steady-out which will lead to an upturn later, Mr. Truman will feel that he must be decisive," this official said. He asked not to be quoted by name.

Two Pay $25 Fines For Headlighting

John Piron, 624 South 15th street, and Clarence DeGrand, Escanaba, Route One, pleaded guilty in justice court today to a charge of using artificial lights to hunt. Each was assessed a fine of $25 and costs. Arrests were made Sunday night by Conservation Officer L. C. Brown, in Ford River township.

"Sold the first day" said Jones

Mrs. Emma Derosier, Life-Long Resident Of Nahma, Is Dead

Mrs. Emma Derosier, 83, of Nahma, died at 7:30 a. m. Sunday at the family home. She had been in poor health for several years.

She was born in Three Rivers, Canada, July 28, 1865, and had lived in Nahma and Garden nearly all of her life.

Surviving are one daughter and three sons, Mrs. Fred Olmstead and Harry Derosier, of Nahma, and John and Peter Derosier, of Milwaukee; and six grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at 9 Tuesday morning at St. Andrew's church Rev. Charles Reinhart officiating, and burial will be in Garden cemetery. The body was removed from the Allo funeral home to the family home at Nahma this afternoon.

In primitive blast furnaces, hand-operated bellows of skin inside cylinders supplied air to a mixture of iron ore and charcoal in a fire.

ARE BARKEEPS SALAD BOYS?

Ruark Raps Foreign Influence In Saloon

By ROBERT C. RUARK
New York.—The American saloon, already unsettled by television, women and the dry martini, a concoction I believe to be unfit for consumption by man or microbe, is currently suffering from a visitation of effeteism that is frightening to behold.

I believe a congressional investigation may be in order, to determine what dastardly foreign forces may be striking at the very roots of our culture, undermining the honest bourbon business and stealing the thunder from nutritious rye.

Vodka, I find, is becoming increasingly popular among the tipplers, and you know what country makes vodka. Enjoying considerable vogue right now is a nauseous blend of vodka and tomato juice, which is called a bloody Mary and purports to cure early morning anguish without crippling or blinding the patient.

As a hearty disdainer of health foods, I have nothing but contempt for tomato juice, anyhow, even when tricked up with additional vitamins, and this red goo plus vodka is unthinkable. It is not, however, quite so unthinkable as the Moscow mule, another beverage which finds favor among the crew-cut youth of our land.

Pimm's Cup
I may have described a Moscow mule before, but we must define it once again for the edification of the late-comers. A Moscow mule is served in a copper mug, or vase, and is made of vodka and ginger-beer. I met it first in Hollywood, a town which permits the existence of turkeyfurrer, the banana malted milkshake and Mickey Rooney. The Moscow mule is supposed to be a mild tipple, but it has a habit of suddenly whacking you between the eyes and causing you to walk swiftly away on your kneecaps.

It is not enough that we are again faced with the refinancing of England. But suddenly its insidious export, The Pimm's cup, has settled solidly in our midst. There are Pimm's cup No. 1, No. 2 and Lord forgive us our trespasses, No. 3.

Pimm's No. 1 seems to be concocted principally of gin, a pie-bean beverage at best, with some addition of ginger beer and a general landscaping of assorted vegetables. It affronts mah south'n soul to see a bartender, who should be laying out the now forbidden free lunch, whittling sticks of cucumber to place in pewter cups of Pimm's. Between the whittling and the polishing of the pewter there is scarcely time for him to dilute the honest whiskey.

Squirt Of Lemon

I resent vegetables in booze, anyhow. Made under some circumstances, the mint julep is a delightful, inspiring thirst-slaker, but most juleps are so beetlebrowed with mint sprigs and studded with fruit that all a man needs is a dollop of whipped cream or mayonnaise to convince himself that he has mistakenly ordered a salad. I do not think a cucumber should be included in alcoholic beverage, any more than you order gravy with ice cream. The next thing you know some sneak will be inserting spinach in the Scotch, to give it moral tone, and then's when I fire from the hip.

On the subject of foreign irritations in drinks, they have a habit today of slipping a squirt of lemon into practically everything. It is well-known to scientists that lemon-juice, left to rearrange its molecules in a beaker, undergoes chemical changes that make it practically a deadly weapon. A fellow I know, man name of Will Morrow, is convinced it causes ulcers, breeds divorce and once rob-

NAHMA

Wedding Shower

Nahma, Mich.—Mr. and Mrs. Pat Phalen were honored by the community with a wedding shower held at the civic center on Thursday night. Prizes for the card games played during the evening were won by Mrs. Harry Smith in bridge; Mrs. Antone Deloria in 500 and Mrs. Dave Phalen in smear. Mrs. Phalen also won the guest award. Lunch was served after which the newlyweds were presented with lovely and useful gifts.

Those in charge of arranging the shower were chairman, Mrs. Lawrence Kuchenski, Mrs. Kenneth Lavigne, Mrs. Harry Smith, Mrs. Amos Ritter, Mrs. A. B. Bernier, Mrs. W. Sanford, Mrs. Emil LeBrasseur, Mrs. Wallace Benette, Mrs. Henry Giroux and Mrs. Dick LeBrasseur.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Albert Lewellyn of Detroit, bed a filling station in its spare time.

If I am near dead of thirst on a desert, I might condescend to a shot of rum, but there is something about rum which causes people to sissy it up with trans-fusions of pomegranate juice, passion fruit, pineapple juice and soggy fruit slices.

Corruption in the corner house of solace has gone so far, now, that as a final insult they mix gin with ice cream and serve it with a straight face, and they put honey in whiskey sours, and I have seen a lady drinking Black Label Johnny Walker and chasing it with Coca-Cola.

Some evil corrosive influence has undoubtedly crawled into our culture, and I want it stopped. In the meantime, bartender, a bourbon and branch water, please, and if you make a single pass at the bitters bottle I'll break your arm.

E. J. Holderman
Takes Eastern
Girl As Bride

White gladioli and other summer flowers on the terrace of the bride's family home, Cedar Knoll, Wassau, N. Y., was the setting for the wedding Saturday afternoon, July 23, of Ruth Eleanor Wearne, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Groves Wearne, and Edmond Julian Holderman, of Athens, Pa., son of Herbert L. Holderman of 916 Seventh avenue south, Escanaba.

The vows were spoken at 4 o'clock before Dr. Cortland Van Deusen.

The bride wore a gown of white taffeta, styled with a fitted waist and full skirt with a panel of duchesse lace and a shoulder length veil of duchesse lace from her mother's wedding gown, arranged on a tulle type headpiece. Her flowers were white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid. Her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. John E. McGowan of Little Neck, N. Y., wore light green taffeta with an organdy overskirt and a small white hat and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Mrs. Wearne wore powder blue lace and crepe with a small matching feather hat and lavender orchid corsage.

James Van Effen of Haddonfield, N. J., served as Mr. Holderman's best man.

Honeymoon in Canada

A wedding reception for fifty guests was held informally on the terrace following the ceremony.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip through Canada and they also will visit in Escanaba with members of Mr. Holderman's family before returning to Athens where they will live at 113 Spruce street.

The bride attended Cornell university and Yale university School of Nursing. Mr. Holderman who attended Purdue university and served as a lieutenant in the navy for four years is an engineer at Ingersoll Rand Company at Athens.

Scottish Highland
Tatto In Detroit

Hundreds of Scottish pipers and dancers will put on their kilts and take up their claymores to take part in the colorful Scottish Highland Tattoo, August 13, which will open the two-day celebration of the 100th anniversary of St. Andrew's Society.

Highland games and contests will be the features of the program August 14. Festivities will be conducted both days in the U. of D. Stadium in Detroit.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's, Lippman's Tool Shop, Scotties Fish and Chips, Compie and Sweeney Inc., Allans Nash Sales and Allans Uniforms.

The spectacular show will mark the Society's 100 years as a benevolent and charitable Society, which found its beginning in Detroit in 1849. St. Andrew's Societies have been in existence throughout the world for hundreds of years, and there are Societies in centers throughout this country, some of which are now over two hundred years.

The objectives are the cultivation of the physical, intellectual and moral nature of its members, and assistance to those in need.

SPEAKS VOWS — The former Ruth Eleanor Wearne, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond Groves Wearne of Wassau, N. Y., exchanged marriage vows with Edmond J. Holderman of Athens, Pa., in a ceremony Saturday afternoon at the bride's family home. The newlyweds following a honeymoon in Canada will live in Athens.

Carmen Sundwick,
Robert Miller
Wed Saturday

The marriage of Carmen Sundwick, daughter of Mrs. Andrew William Sundwick, sr., of Detroit, formerly of Escanaba, and Robert Merlin Miller, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Merlin Miller of Findlay, Ohio, took place Saturday, July 23, at high noon in Central Methodist church in Detroit.

Dr. Shirley E. Johnson performed the ceremony. Mrs. Carl Senob, a sister of the bride, sang "I Love Thee," Grieg.

The bride wore a short-sleeved gown of imported Swiss eyelet organdy with matching short gloves, and an elbow length silk illusion veil caught to an organdy bonnet. She carried a bouquet of daisies and larkspur.

Linnea Sundwick, the bride's sister, who was maid of honor, wore bright yellow organdy, styled with a simple bodice and bouffant skirt and a sash of green taffeta. Karen Senob, niece of the bride, who was junior bridesmaid, wore a similar gown of green organdy with a yellow taffeta sash. Both carried bouquets of daisies.

Neil Ault of Columbus, Ohio, was best man, and seating the guests were Bill Day of Findlay, Ohio, and Bob Bricker of Detroit.

Wedding Breakfast
Mrs. Sundwick wore a navy street length dress with matching accessories and Mrs. Miller wore aqua. Gardenias and pink roses formed their corsages.

The ceremony was followed by a breakfast for the bridal party, immediate families and close friends at the Dearborn Inn. After a honeymoon in Northern Michigan the newlyweds will live in Detroit. The bride, a graduate of Michigan State College of Education, is teaching in the Dearborn public schools. Mr. Miller, a graduate of Ohio State university, is employed by Lybrand, Ross Brothers and Montgomery, certified public accountants.

A new idea in scarfs is the "bookerchief," a silk square printed with best-selling book titles.

Kleiman - Jorasz
Wedding Held At
Spalding Church

Florence Marie Kleiman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kleiman, sr., of Wilson, became the bride of Alexander Jorasz of Harris, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jorasz, at a ceremony Saturday morning, July 23, at 9 o'clock at St. Francis Xavier church in Spalding. Gladioli in pastel shades were arranged with the lighted altar candles for the double ring service at which Father Bernard Karol officiated.

The church choir sang the music of the wedding mass and also the special hymn "O Dear Saint Anne."

In the bridal party were Barbara Kleiman, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, Sophie and Rosalie Jorasz of Chicago, the bridegroom's sisters, who were bridesmaids, Patsy Peltier, cousin of the bride, the flower girl, Francis Kleiman, who was ring bearer, Gerald Nelson of Gladstone, Mr. Jorasz' best man and Joseph and Lloyd Kleiman, ushers.

The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore traditional white slipper satin, the colonial styled gown made with a lace yoke, Peter Pan collar, long, tapering sleeves and a full skirt with a long train. Chantilly lace formed a bustle effect and extended the length of the train. Her veil and blusher of bridal illusion were caught to a coronet of orange blossoms. She wore pearls, the bridegroom's gift, as her jewelry, and she carried orchid and white lilies with satin shower ribbons.

Pastel Gowns
The maid of honor wore a ruffled pink taffeta gown, with a sheer drop shoulder yoke, snug bodice and full skirt. Her pink net open crown picture hat was trimmed with pink bows and she wore matching flowers. She carried a colonial bouquet. The bridesmaids wore identical gowns in shades of blue and green and the flower girl wore a ruffled frock of white organdy. All three carried colonial bouquets. The little ring bearer was dressed in white.

Mrs. Kleiman wore a pink crepe dress with brown accessories and a corsage of white roses for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Jorasz wore a lavender print with white accessories and a similar corsage.

A dinner and a supper were served at the home of the bride's parents followed by a reception for 200 guests. Summer flowers and pastel streamers decorated the home and the three tiered wedding cake with its miniature bride couple, centered the bridal table.

The newlyweds after a honeymoon at the Wisconsin Dells, Milwaukee, Chicago and points in Lower Michigan, will live at Harris high school, a graduate of Harris high school, has been employed by the Delta Hardware Co. Mr. Jorasz, also a Harris high school graduate, attended Bryant-Stratton Business college in Chicago, and was employed by the Cleveland Container Co., before engaging in farming at Harris.

Wedding Guests
Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Johnson and Gloria, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. John Knauf, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kleiman, Mr.

and Mrs. Emil Perow, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Marsicek and Bernice, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Kleiman, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Beauchamp, Mr. and Mrs. John Kirkpatrick, and Delores DeGroote, Escanaba; Mr. and Mrs. John Solis and Gerald Nelson, Gladstone; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ruttner and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ruttner, Carney; Misses Sophie, Rosalie and Mary Jorasz, Chicago; Andy Jorasz, Indiana Harbor, Ind.; Catherine Yourish, Cleveland, O.; Mr. and Mrs. Tony Zemba, Evanston, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Kleiman, Bark River; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Werner of Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. John Yourish, Chicago; Stanley Jorasz and sons, Joseph, Walter, Ted and Edward of Latrobe, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Hugo Berger and daughter, Gloria, Chicago; Edward Berger, Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nelson, Gladstone.

The bride was honored at a

Today's Recipes

Mrs. J. Clark of Nahma is passing along this excellent recipe for Lady Baltimore cake, requested recently.

Lady Baltimore Cake
3 cups sifted cake flour
3 tsp. baking powder
1/4 tsp. salt
1 1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup water
1 tsp. vanilla
1/4 tsp. almond extract
3 egg whites, beaten stiffly
Sift flour once, measure, and add baking powder and salt, then

Question:

How does Blue Cross eliminate financial "red tape" when sickness strikes?

Answer: When Blue Cross members need hospital care or surgical services, they have only to show their membership card to the doctor and participating hospital to receive care. This eliminates advance payments, financial references, embarrassing questions. No forms to fill out or claims to enter—Blue Cross pays the hospital and doctor direct.

Ask your employer to investigate how your company can obtain this protection for you and your family—or write to address below for full information.

AT INDIAN LAKEBoat Capsizes When Men
Get Excited

Excitement over a big fish caused a near case of drowning at Indian lake Saturday morning.

Jerry and Andrew Martin, father and son respectively, of Chillicothe, Ohio, who are vacationing on Ossa Beach at one of the Gust Larson cabins, were doing some early morning fishing Saturday and when the elder Martin seated in the bow of the boat, hooked a large northern pike he found considerable difficulty landing it. The younger Martin, seated in the back of the boat hurried to his father's assistance, lost his balance and capsized the boat.

The calls for help carried a considerable distance in the calm morning air and help from all directions came rushing to them. They were found clinging to the narrow ledge on the gunwale of the craft.

Calls to the state police and the sheriff were sent in and they also appeared on the scene with life-saving equipment, but their services were found unnecessary. The fish got away and their equipment, of which they had considerable in the bottom of the lake. They suffered no ill effects from the ordeal.

Lyman Clark, A
Former Resident
Here, Is Buried

Commitment services were held Friday afternoon at the Lakeview cemetery for Lyman Clark who resided here about twenty-five years ago, and who died Tuesday at Merrill, Wis. Funeral services were held in Merrill the day previous.

Mr. Clark, who was about eighty years old, was engaged in railroad during his active years and when he resided here was employed by the Ann Arbor Railway at Frankfort as section foreman.

His wife died about twenty years ago and is buried in the family lot in Lakeview cemetery. A daughter, Miss Nina Clark, of Chicago, Ill., and a brother, Henry Clark, of Merrill, Wisconsin, survive.

Rev. Doc Waddell
Pays Tribute To Friends in Sermon

Rev. Doc Waddell, the "86" year old pastor of the "canvass church" with Mills Bros. Circus, and his "big top" congregation of 350 souls, Monday morning, July 24, at daybreak, held their "service of the dawn." A "prayer-remembrance" ceremony paid memory tribute to the late General Russell Alger and Henry Ford, and Monday's performances were dedicated to Mrs. Minnie Keyes, general grand matron of the Eastern Star of the World, Michigan born, now of Washington, D. C.; Miss Genevieve Nauman, of West Branch, grand secretary of the Michigan O. E. S.; and Leonard Multhaupt and his Lions club.

BABSON BANKS
ON YOUNG MENFinds Them Optimistic
And Ambitious

By ROGER W. BABSON
Babson Park, Mass.—During the past month I have talked with a number of graduates from my three colleges,—Babson Institute for Men in Massachusetts, Webster College for Women in Florida, and Utopia College in the center of the United States at Eureka, Kansas. I find all of these graduates optimistic and "crazy to go." They do not complain of the New Deal because they never knew anything about the Old Deal! They assume that a Democratic administration at Washington is a normal condition and that the Republican party has passed into history! Many of these men have seen war service in Europe, Asia and Africa and are thoroughly sold on the resources, advantages and opportunities of the United States.

Sons Versus Fathers
The young businessmen of today are in a very much different mood from their fathers who were brought up in a truly free-enterprise system but who now are discontented with government regulations, high taxation and labor domination. When I talk with the fathers of these young men, I return home discouraged and pessimistic; but when I talk with the sons of these same fathers I am hopeful and optimistic.

Of course, neither fathers nor sons can eliminate the business cycle. Someday we shall have another business depression with much lower prices and considerable unemployment. On the other hand, I feel that if more fathers would turn their business over to their sons, the present prosperity would last longer and the next depression would not be so severe.

Forecasting The Future
A prominent investment banker recently asked me what I thought would happen to the railroads, telephone companies and other public utilities during the next thirty years? Knowing that he has three children who have recently graduated from college, I replied: "Don't ask me. I am over seventy years old. Get together your children and ask them what is to happen. They are the ones who will decide whether the government will take over the railroads and utilities. In case you think your children would merely reflect your own opinions, have them consult acquaintances whose families hold no investments today. I am sure that the opinion of an honest cross section of young people would be far more valuable than the opinion of mature bankers, engineers or even political leaders.

When discussing with students the business outlook, they insist that conditions are very different today than in 1929. They show how in 1929 interest rates were very high and money was scarce; while today interest rates are abnormally low and bank loans may easily be secured. They explain how the farmers in 1929 were burdened with debt and today are almost free from debt and that, in a general way, this applies also to other industries. They claim that everyone was speculating in 1929 on very thin margins; while today there is only a little speculation with margins averaging over 70 per cent.

Babson Roundtables
These students are proud of the fact that the government has become such a large purchaser of certain goods, crops and building materials and hence can largely stabilize these industries. They recognize that unemployment will increase; but that unemployment insurance, pensions, etc., should still give these unemployed people money with which to pay their

VISITS BUDDY—Pfc. Bruce L. Neddow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Neddow, 138 N. 4th Street, who is stationed with the 6th Armored Cavalry in Straubing, Germany, flew to Wurzberg, Germany to spend the 4th of July weekend with another local youth and close friend, Cpl. Kenneth R. Swanson of the 537th M. P. son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Swanson, Deer Street. The two soldiers had not seen each other for 3 years. The weekend was spent sight-seeing and visiting friends of Cpl. Swanson. Pfc. Neddow also had the pleasure of accidentally meeting Cpl. William (Pug) Haas, son of Mrs. E. Hartman, North 5th St., and hours were spent talking about Manistique and "old times."

By SCIENCE SERVICE
Chicago.—The scientist who directed the building of the world's first chain-reacting pile, forerunner of the atomic bomb, took the spotlight for a non-scientific job across the street from the historic pile.

Dr. Enrico Fermi, Italian-born Nobel physicist and University of Chicago physicist, laid the cornerstone of a new building, the second unit in the University's new research center.

The $12,000,000 center is expected to be the largest privately-operated center for basic research in the world.

rent and buy their food. This they claim will make retail trade less dependent of fluctuations in industrial production.

These students show that not only is the farmer now largely out of debt, but that he can indefinitely depend upon a fair system of price supports, the same as the manufacturer depends upon a reasonable tariff and the same as the wageworker depends upon reasonable immigration restrictions. They point to the fact that there was no bank deposit insurance in 1929; while today every bank account up to $5000 is insured and this means insurance protection for 95 per cent of all individual depositors. Finally, they believe that the unsatisfied demand for homes and consumer durable goods can—if necessary—be paid for by the large savings deposits which people can draw upon for such useful products. Yes, I have great faith in the young businessman of character—who will work hard and keep out of debt.

Library Adventure

By Arnold Mulder

At the international Goethe convention in Aspen, Colo., a speaker gave the impression that "great art is free from propaganda." At least, if she was quoted correctly, that is what she appeared to be telling her audience. She was trying to prove that great art is impossible in Iron curtain countries, that if Goethe had lived in such a land his work could not have been great.

This speaker was putting the cart before the horse. For it is not propaganda that destroys art. All great artists have been propagandists, including Goethe. Roughly speaking, an artist is great just because he believes more passionately in something than it is possible for the average citizen to do, and propagandizes for it with all his soul and all his heart. There is nothing wrong with propaganda. It is only when an artist is forced by government, or by any other power outside of himself, to propagandize for something he does not believe in that great art becomes impossible.

If the Colorado speaker meant that in so far as the Iron Curtain governments force their artists to stick to a "line" they become artistically impotent, she was on firm ground. But there is no reason to believe that some Soviet artists are not sincerely convinced that their particular brand of spiritual "medicine" is the best for all mankind. And there is no reason to believe that great art may not come out of such an attitude behind the Iron Curtain.

The harm does not come from propaganda but from government control of propaganda. Any artist ought to have complete freedom to choose his own propaganda and express it without let or hindrance. Artists have seldom had this freedom either in Iron Curtain countries or in lands on this side of the curtain. They do not

Poor Ferdinand
Not Aided Much
By Hormone Use

Detroit.—Pity poor Ferdinand! A bull lacking the ability to take care of the biological chore that is the only excuse for his expensive existence might just as well be sent to the bologna works. Treatment with gland extracts, or hormones, may be attempted but it probably won't do much good, was the pessimistic declaration of Dr. W. G. Venzke of Ohio State University, before the meeting here of the American Veterinary Medical Association.

In a few isolated instances, Dr. Venzke admitted, hormone treatment has done some good. However, in most cases the cure, if cure there be, is "plenty of sunshine and new grass."

With cows it's different, the Ohio veterinarian stated. There are half-a-dozen possible causes for Bossy's inability to produce calves, and in some of them hormone treatments have been definitely helpful. More research and clinical data are needed, though, before routines of hormone treatments to correct bovine barrenness can be recommended.

Sport of Archery Told to Rotarians

By Herb Van Horn

The sport of archery and in particular the hunting of big game with bow and arrow was described by Herb Van Horn of Gladstone to the Escanaba Rotary club at its meeting today noon in the Delta hotel.

Van Horn also told of the history of the bow and its development from a short bow, used by all primitive peoples of the world, down through the ages to the present effective hunting weapon. The making of bows is one of the oldest arts known to man and the Greeks included the bow and arrow in much of their classical literature and art.

The American Indian was at best an indifferent bow maker and there is little evidence that he was a good archer, Van Horn said. The sport of deer hunting with bow and arrow is increasing in popularity in the Upper Peninsula, with 8,168 archers licensed last year, he reported.

The Rotary club at its meeting today also inducted into membership John Greene, cashier of the First National Bank, and Robert McCormick, district construction engineer in the Upper Peninsula for the state highway department.

New Blood Test Made for Cancer

Los Angeles, (SS)—A blood test that will tell within 24 hours whether a new cancer treatment is going to be effective or not has been developed by Dr. P. M. West and Jessamine Hilliard of the University of California at Los Angeles Medical School in cooperation with the Birmingham Veterans Administration hospital.

A second feature of the test, its ability to show the progress of individual cancer patients, has already led to its being adopted as a standard procedure at the Birmingham hospital. Any change in the patient's condition, whether accelerated spread of the cancer or sudden development of resistance, is promptly detected by the method.

The test involves charting the ratio of the amount of two chemicals in the blood. The chemicals are enzyme inhibitors, so called because they slow down the action of enzymes. Familiar example of an enzyme is pepsin, which helps digestion of food in the stomach. The many other enzymes of the body play equally important parts in body chemical processes.

Stranahan to Defend Canadian Golf Title

Saint John, N. B., July 25 (P)—Approximately 132 golfers were expected starters in the hunt for the Canadian Amateur Golf championship opening here today.

Frank Stranahan, the defending titleholder from Toledo, Ohio, received a bye in the opening 18-hole round.

Nesting Robins Aid U. S. Park Official

Washington — Superintendent Edward S. Luce, in charge of Custer Battlefield National Monument, in Montana, feels that he has solved the problem of disposing of the paper handkerchiefs which visitors carelessly throw about the monument.

A couple pairs of robins are using the tissues to build their nests — thus helping out the National Park Service officials in their disposal problem.

To help lower costs on dairy farms, Michigan State College agricultural economists list four major practices: improved forage production, more efficient feeding, better work methods, and more economical housing.

No Easy Sailing For Arms Program

shape under the Atlantic pact. And Senator Dulles of New York, a top adviser on foreign policy matters, flatly called the $1,450,000,000 figure "too big" even before he entered the Senate.

Actually the value of the proposed foreign arms aid would approach $1,825,000,000, the state department disclosed.

The extra value is in "excess" U. S. military stocks, proposed to be sent to America's friends abroad with no charge other than the cost of getting it ready for use, and handling.

About $450,000,000 worth of such material, the department estimated, can be provided with only about $75,000,000 in rehabilitation costs charged against the program.

Under the program, military aid would go mainly to eight European nations and to about a half dozen others scattered all the way from Europe to the Pacific Ocean.

Need More Later—More than $1,000,000,000 of the proposed military help would go to Atlantic treaty nations in western Europe — countries like Britain, France and Belgium. Said the state department in a 41-page pamphlet prepared for Congress:

"Their defense is our defense and will continue to be of deep concern to us as long as their military weakness invites aggression." The aid plan now provided only "urgently needed" arms for western Europe and "future programs" will be necessary.

There was no estimate as to how many years these programs might have to run. That will depend largely, the state department said, on "the degree to which we and the nations associated with us can remove the threat of war."

Today's action was a followup to the long and bitter Senate debate over ratification of the treaty. That ratification was voted last Thursday by a lop-sided 82 to 13.

But no such easy sailing appeared in prospect for the arms program.

Detail of the program would not be written out in law as drafted by the administration. Only broad assignments of authority would be given to the President along with responsibility for carrying out the details himself.

However, the state department also sent to Congress a 41-page booklet covering virtually all the main arguments for the program. Greece, what the administration proposes to do with the money and the power asked and outlining in a general way how the funds would be spent.

Help Greece, Turkey—Of the $1,450,000,000 which the proposed law would let Mr. Truman spend, the booklet says most would go to western Europe — "an area whose importance to our security has been demonstrated in two world wars."

Western Europe would receive $938,450,000 worth of arms, technical assistance and training services together with $155,000,000 to be used in stepping up military output. This would leave only $300,550,000 for military help to other friendly nations including Greece and Turkey, since $45,000,000 is earmarked for an emergency fund and $10,970,000 for administrative costs.

This breakdown is given in the state department's pamphlet. The bill itself simply states that an appropriation of $1,450,000,000 would be authorized for carrying out the purposes of the proposed military aid law.

Hess Family Has Corner On Skeet Titles in State

Jackson, Mich., July 25 (P)—The George Hess family had a corner on Michigan's top skeet shooting championships today.

Hess, slightly built Wayne county road commission employee, who lives in Wayne, Mich., fired a perfect straight of 100 birds to take the all-gauge mens' singles title here Sunday.

Earlier, Mrs. Hess won the women's singles crown by edging Mrs. Mickey McBroom of Fenton, 92 to 91.

In taking the mens' event, Hess beat out Len Ruwe of Grosse Pointe Farms, who had a 99. Defending champ Shet Crites of Detroit trailed far down with a 91.

Sports Scribe Kills Two Birds One Stone

Lansing, July 25 (P)—Lad Slingerland, sports writer for the Lansing State Journal, killed two birds with one stone yesterday.

He covered the pro-member tournament for his paper and played in it well enough to share first place honors.

He and Elroy Briggs, pro at Saginaw Country Club, playing as a team, tied for first at 65 with Ron La Parl, Battle Creek Country Club pro, and Wayne Wood, Walnut Hills member.

Briggs had the low individual round score among the pros with a 67.

Detroit's Founding Was 248 Years Ago

Detroit (P)—On the anniversary of this city's founding 248 years ago, ground was broken Sunday for a Detroit historical museum.

PONDER PREPARES—Chicago, July 25 (P)—Ponder, Calumet Farm's Kentucky Derby winner, and four other candidates for the $90,000 Arlington Park classic Saturday will tune up for that 1¼ miles test today in the $5,000 Omaha purse.

Italians Surprisingly Strong In Davis Cup Play Against French

Paris, July 25 (P)—Davis Cup teams of Italy and France squared off in the final two singles matches today to decide the European zone tennis champion.

The Italians assumed a 2-1 advantage by winning the doubles yesterday and need only a split of the final tilts to qualify for the inter-zone finals.

Giani Cecelli and Marcello Del Bello jolted the confident French, subjective powers of international net play, by defeating Marcel Bernard and Henri Bolelli, 3-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2.

The decisive singles duels today send Bernard, the champion of France, against Cucelli and Robert Abdesselam of France against Del Bello. The French are favored.

The victor in this series qualifies to meet the American zone winner late in August for the right to challenge the United States for the trophy.

Detroit Man Claims World Record Catch, 480-Lb. Blue Marlin

Bimini, Bahamas, July 25 (P)—G. Albert Lyon, 70-year-old angler from Detroit, today claimed a new world's record for blue marlin caught on a nine-thread line.

The blue marlin weighed 480 pounds and measured 11 feet 11 inches from bill to tail. It was boated after an hour and 10 minutes late Saturday.

Lyon was fishing aboard his private cruiser, Alberta. The old record was a 156-pounder caught by S. D. Mills in 1947.

Fishermen said Lyon's feat was remarkable since nine-thread line has a rated breaking strain of 27 pounds dead weight.

Midland Dows Whip Windsor Jets, 9-6, In U. S. Softball

Detroit, July 25 (P)—The Midland Dow Athletics pasted the Windsor, Ont., Jets 9-6 last night in a National Softball league game marked by three home runs.

The Dows, who bowed to the Ft. Wayne Zollner Pistons Saturday night, 4-1, now embark on a western swing that includes three doubleheaders in as many days with Milwaukee, Racine and Waukegan.

Hospital to Have New Beauty Parlor

Kalamazoo (P)—Patients at Borgess hospital will get a new service this week—a bedside beauty shop operated on wheels. Mother Elizabeth Bernard, SSJ, superintendent of the hospital, said the plan would be "wonderful for the morale of women patients."

Denver Housewife Brings Semantics Out Of The Clouds

like that "crabby old teacher." Even family spats can be turned into pleasant experiences.

Mrs. Jacobs isn't exactly a novice in this semantics business. She has a couple of college degrees. But her main occupation, she emphasizes, is being a housewife.

On the husband-and-wife subject, she told the Congress "we need to take a lesson from labor-management. They have developed skills in communicating with each other. (that's semantics). Husbands and wives can do the same thing."

She said man and wife need to develop "face saving devices and 'putting-on-ice' technique." Mrs. Jacobs' putting-on-ice method sounds like a semanticized-version of the old "count ten before you say anything" philosophy. She suggested that "if you get angry about something just before dinner, put-it-on-ice until after dinner. Or until nine o'clock. Or better wait until you're out driving sometime later."

On the subject of face saving devices, Mrs. Jacobs explained: "You allow the other person to understand wherein he is wrong without making him admit it." As an example she said if "your husband's manner of leaving a spoon in his coffee cup annoys you, put on a dinner party so he can see that guests don't leave their spoons in their coffee cups."

Sanity Code to Get Another Going Over

New Castle, N. H., July 25 (P)—The highly controversial sanity code, especially its sections relating to the eligibility of intercollegiate football players, is expected to receive marked attention here during the National Association of Collegiate Commissioners' four-day meeting, which opens today.

That group includes 10 of the nation's major college athletic conferences that govern more than 160 institutions of learning in all sections of the country.
